Hello

In 1997 i visited Taiz, Yemen to install a printing machine at a company called Yempac or Yempak.

On couple of occasions i was accompanied by a young man in the evenings. He said he was not connected to the company but was associated with the management.

One conversation we had detailed hijacking domestic flight (no security) civilian airliners in the USA and using them to attack targets such as the WTC.

I have only become aware of the significance of this conversation, the nationalities and location recently and believe it is worthy of investigation. Whilst i shall be guarded with the photo until i am more sure of his identity i will share this information as widely as i can, in pursuit of the truth.

That's me on the right, wearing a Corinthians t-shirt.
